The San Diego Zoo is situated in a canyon setting with natural hills and valleys, some of which are inherent barriers to disabled access that are not technically feasible to remove. The Zoo is making an ongoing effort to improve access throughout the Zoo. Please consult this map for information about the most accessible paths.

We offer accommodations for guests with disabilities; some require advance reservations. Our website contains details in our "Guide for Guests with Disabilities." Click Visitor Info, then Guests with Disabilities. The Guide may also be viewed at the Guest Ambassador office near the turnstiles.
